$12,000,000 FIRE

Rio de Janeiro, March 8.—Twelve million dollars was the estimated damage today in a fire which broke out on the Santos docks Tuesday.

The fire is expected to last till the end of the week. The losses include 90,000 bags of coffee, 20,000 bales of jute and the contents of several warehouses.

"ROSE OF THE WORLD."

A vivid reminder of our own soldier boys in France is given in "Rose of the World." the Artcraft picture at the Grand Theatre Monday, in which Elsie Ferguson plays the part of Rosamond, the wife of Capt. Harry English.

The captain loses his life in a heroic manner, on the field of battle. His widow marries Sir Arthur Gerardine, an elderly and conceited snob. Her life with Sir Arthur proves unhappy, and her love for her first husband grows stronger daily. Matters are brought to a crisis when at an elaborate dinner the contrast of the sumptuous menu with the suffering of Capt. Harry from hunger and thirst while battling for his life so affects her that she deliberately leaves the table. Sir Arthur follows her to her room, and the overwrought woman breaks down in a scene of wild hysteria.

The photoplay is adapted from the story by Agnes and Edgerton Castle, and is an absorbing tale of India. Maurice Tourneur, well known as a producer, directed the picture for Artcraft.

Also Antonio Moreno, in "The Iron Test."

NEVER HEARD OF THE WAR

Woman Witness Also Ignorant of Woodrow Wilson and July 4.

Pottsville, Pa., March 8.—Mrs. Albert Foulk, of Auburn, who testified in court yesterday in a case against her husband, was declared by court officials to be probably the most ignorant person in the United States. In answer to questions by Representative Palmer, the woman said she did not know what day of the week Good Friday came on, she knew nothing of the Fourth of July and never heard of Woodrow Wilson or the European war.

Her husband was almost equally ignorant and Represntative Palmer quoted decisions of the Supreme Court that persons showing such ignorance are not fit to testify. Judge Koch, however, said ignorant and artless persons often tell of the truth and admitted their testimony. The Judge added that such persons should not be permitted to marry. Foulk was found guilty of several offenses and sentenced to ten years in jail.

REVOLVER ENDS TWO LIVES

Man Kills Woman Who Would Not Divorce Husband and Himself

Harrisburg, Pa., March 8.—Mrs. Corinne Marshall, 27 and pretty, was shot and instantly killed Thursday by Roy A. Forner, of Huntingdon, after the two had quarreled because she would not divorce her husband, a private in the army, and marry him. Then Forner killed himself.

The two were occupying a room in the old red light district, when Forner fired three shots into the woman's breast. Both died before the police could batter down the doors. The police learned that Forner recently gave the woman $60 to get a divorce.

SERIOUS CHARGE

Rev. Francis Berry, Children's Home Manager, Accused by Girls.

Dallas, Texas, March 8.—The Rev. Francis C. Berry, past 60, gray and haggard, charged with statutory crimes against young girls faced judgment yesterday.

Clad in clerical black, the aged chaplain of a children's home here, heard one of his own flock tell of his alleged offenses against her. Rigorous cross examination failed to shake 14-year-old Irene Everet's story. Other little girls were attacked similarly she said. Part of an alleged confession said to have been obtained from Berry by prosecutor W R. King was admitted in evidence.

Berry offered no witnesses and did not take the stand. His sole defense was to be the argument of his counsel. The state demanded Berry's death

PLEA WILL BE INSANITY

Ishida, Japanese Psychiatrist, Indicted For Murder of Dr. George B. Wolff—Trial Set For March 17 at Towson, Md.

Towson, Md., March 8.—Dr. Norbu Ishida, the Japanese psychiatist, who shot and killed hsi colleague, Dr. George B. Wolff last December at the Sheppard Pratt Hospital, has just been indicted by the Baltimore county grand jury for murder in the first degree. The date for the trial has been set for March 17. The presiding justices are to be Chief Judge Burke and Justices Duncan and McLane.

Ishida's only defense will be based on the claim that he was suffering an attack of temporary insanity, brought on by worry, at the time when he cooly shot down his fellow worker at the hospital.

The State Lunacy Commission with Dr. George H. Hocking as acting chairman, has already reported that Dr. Ishida is now in an absolutely finding was handed down after repeated examinations of Dr. Ishida by the members f the lunacy commission They visited him in his cell in the towson jail and found him not only entirely rational but in fairly good spirit

Dr. Ishida, himself a mental expert, is in a curious position. Entirely conversant with all the perplexities of mental derangement, he finds himself characterized as sane, although he himself claims he was suffering a paranoic attack at the time he committed the murder. Dr. Edward N. Brush, superintendent of the hospital where both the murderer and his victim were engaged in psycopathological research, has declared that Dr. Ishida was sane just previous to the shooting.

The burden of the defense will be to produce evidence that Ishida became unbalanced suddenly and remained so only for a brief period

Dr. Ishida claimed that his victim persecuted him both by circulating stories to the effect that he was a German spy and in belittting him in the estimation of a pretty nurse at the hospital of whom he had become enarmoured.

Ishida has a wife and child in Japan. There has been no evidence that Dr. Wolff ever discussed Ishida in any way.

$63,200 STOLEN

Boy Bank Messenger is Held up and Beaten by Thieves

New York, March 8.—Milton Strohm, a messenger for the stock exchange firm of L. M. Prince Co., was robbed of more than $30,000 in Liberty bonds and other securities, making a total of $63,200, in a hold-up yesterday afternoon.

The messenger was found badly beaten in the hallway of the Chase National Bank building.

LIFTS BLOCKADE

Paris, March 8.—The supreme allied council of ten yesterday decided to lift the blockade on Austria to provide for an immediate revictualling of the Austrian people.

Food will be sent into Austria through the ports of Fiume and Trieste. Revictualling will be in charge of Herbert C. Hoover. He expects to send into that country 3,000 tons of food daily.

When the proposal came up today, the Italians suggested that it be put over until tomorrow and that a commission be appointed to look into the situation. French, British and American commissioners insisted upon immediate action.

INGOMAR—BILLY RHODES

Pretty Billie Rhodes of picture comedy makes her debut at the Ingomar tonight as a feature star in "The Girl of My Dreams," produced in five parts by the National Film Corporation of America from Wilbur D. Nesbit's story.

Bilie Rhodes is no stranger to you. She has long been a delight in comedies. She puts her first big picture over with a bang, and it's a refreshing, happy play.

Miss Rhodes brings to the screen the joyfulness of her happy personality, and she puts it across in Mr. Nesbit's pretty story.

"The Girl of My Dreams," can best be exploited as the joyful drama that it is.

AMERICAN GIRLS ARE PEDDLERS IN FRANCE

American girls are now peddlers in France, according to a report which has been sent to the Department of Labor. They are volunteers for the job and receive nothing for their services.

The old fashioned system of peddling has been revived in the invaded regions of France where railroad tracks lie in wreckage and the roads are impassable for the heavy trucks. Relief workers for devastated France seeing the groups of people who clustered together in the little ruined villages where the nearest store was probably ten or more miles away, and there was no means of transportation, bethought themselves of the old fashioned method of disposing of goods.

Instead of a loose-jointed wagon which was formerly used for this purpose, the modern chauffeuse drives a Ford car on her rounds and carries with her a cheerful saleswoman who weighs flour, rice, coffee, lard and such provisions from dawn to long after dark.

The traveling store includes besides edibles such necessaries as blankets, sheets, pots and tin plates, knives, lamps and brooms. Those who cannot pay for the articles are given what they need. The rest are charged one-third of the original cost of the package. Some take the supplies and pay for them by small installment.

This attitude of independence is encouraged by the committee, who wish to avoid making the unfortunate victims of war feel like paupers. The peasants are endeavoring to return to their former position of self-sustaining work and the efforts to assist them are only temporary.

LINERS MAY BE SEIZED

Huns Refuse to Give up Ships Without Food Guarantee

Washington, March 8.—Possible seizure of the German merchant fleet, now at Hamburg and Bremen, by the British and American navies was forecast yesterday by Edward N. Hurley, chairman of the Shipping Board. Mr. Hurley was commenting on dispatches reporting failure of negotiations by allied and German delegations at Spa on the ship question.

Paris, March 8.—Flat refusal of Germany to permit her ships to be used for homeward transportation of American troops unless a food supply to last until next harvest is first guaranteed by the allies confronted peace delegates of the five great powers when they met yesterday afternoon.

This determination on the part of Germany was made known by her representatives at the economic conference at Spa, Belgium.

TYPHUS IN RUSSIA STILL INCREASING

Stockholm, March 8.—The typhus epidemic in Russia is increasing, according to advices from Petrograd yesterday.

It was reported that deaths in one Petrograd hospital ranged as high as 8,000 a month.

In the provinces, it was stated, the mortality was so great the Bolsheviki had secretly ordered all incurables killed, in an effort to check the spread of the malady.

RED REVOLT BEGINS

Worst Battle Berlin Has Experienced Started Yesterday Morning—Plan To Storm Reichstag Building—Women and Children of American Red Cross in Danger.

London, March 8.—The counter revolt at Berlin has been quelled by Minister of War Gustave Noske, said a German wireless dispatch picked up here today.

The Spartacides have been defeated and the deserters from the government forces have been disarmed, according to the dispatch.

The number of dead and wounded in the recent fighting exceeds 400, latest messages say.

Berlin, March 8.—The threatened Red revolution practically has begun.

The worst battle Berlin has yet seen opened early yesterday morning and it is not yet over. The Reds are planning to storm the Reichstag Building.

Spartacans are shooting through the Leipziger Strasse. For a time they endangered men and women of the American Red Cross, headed by Col. Layer, who barricaded themselves in that thoroughfare. The women were finally removed to safety in the Palace Hotel.

The American mission on prisoners repatriation is intrenched over a dozen blocks, including Alexander square. The Reds have captured some public buildings as well as the telegraphs in that district.

The government is making desperate effort to put down the new revolt, using poison gas, bombing airplanes, tanks and minenwerfers.

Many influential Berliners, faithful to the government, feared this afternoon that Bolshevism would be victorious. The government will fight to annihilation. The outlook is considered ominous.

Government forces late yesterday were hurriedly surrounding with barbed wire entanglements and machine guns the area dominated by the rebels, thus hoping to isolate the fighting. The Alexander Platz, taken and retaken by both sides several times, is now in possession of the Spartacans.

At this hour the Spartacans had thrown up barricades and otherwise fortified themselves in a space of about a dozen blocks, including the royal castle stables and other public buildings. Spartacans captured the main telegraph office.

They charged through Leipzigerstrasse, shooting in all directions.

A battle raged in the streets around police headquarters, which was besieged by the rebels.

Government troops who went over to the Spartacans fought with the besiegers.

Both sides are using machine guns and armored automobiles. The government is attacking in an effort to raise the siege, with tanks, airplanes and poison gas Scores of casualties have been reported, including many civilians.

BEATS SWINDLERS' GAME

Delaware Man $400 In Pocket After Encounter at Miami.

Seaford, Del., March 8.—Col. Zorah H. Brinsfield, of Eldorado, 10 miles from here, who, a few days ago fell into the hands of a couple of bogus stock swindlers at Miami, Fla., where he and his daughter, Miss Viola, are wintering, and who had a narrow escape from being swindled out of $40,000, came out $400 ahead of the swindlers, according to information of friends of the Colonel.

The swindlers approached Colonel Brinsfield at his hotel in Miami and after several conversations with him induced him to make a small investment in some stock. In a few days they handed the Colonel $400 as profit on his supposed investment. They then approached with the information that if they had $75,000 they could clean up on this stock. One of the swindlers said he could raise $20,000 and the other said he could produce $15,000. Colonel Brinsfield had become interested and said he could raise the remaining $40,000. This was agreed and Colonel Brinsfield caught a train out of Miami for Baltimore. As soon as the swindlers learned Colonel Brinsfield was going to Baltimore, and thence to Hurlock, Md., where he is president of a bank, to get the money, one of them immediately had business in Buffalo, N. Y., and came north with the Colonel. When Baltimore was reached the swindler found he had time to go to Hurlock where Colonel Brinsfield obtained a draft for the $40,000. They then returned to Baltimore and the swindler occupied the same room as the Colonel at a hotel.

In the meantime Colonel Brinsfield's son, D'Arcy, who lives in Cambridge, Md., learned that his father was in the hands of a stranger and was likely to put up a large sum of money in a deal. He at once telephoned police headquarters in Baltimore and then caught a train for the city, arriving in time to prevent his father from turning over the money to the stranger.

SHOT TO DEATH IN DUEL

Father of Dead Man Injured in Battle With Police

Bristol, Va., March 8.—Jack Bridwell, 24 years old, was shot to death, and his father, George Bridwell, wounded in the hip Thursday night at Kingport, Tenn., as the result of a pistol duel with two policemen. The officers were attempting to arrest young Bridwell and his father, who were suspected of bringing illicit whisky into Kingsport. They resisted arrest, and a duel ensued in which the younger Bridwell was killed, a bullet entering his breast. Four suitcases loaded with pint bottles of whisky are said to have been found in their buggy.

KEEP WIFE OR PAY TAX

Married Men Living Alone Are Classed as "Single."

If you want the married man's income tax exemption, you must live with your wife.

If she's pouting and suing you for divorce—then in the eyes of the income tax collector you're a "single man," even though the court has not yet so decreed. One thousand dollars is all the exemption you can get if she's left your "bed and board."

So her leaving, if you are below the $4,000 class, will add $60 to your tax and, if you are over the division line, loss of her companionship while you make out the tax blank will pile $120 more onto your contribution to Uncle Sam.

CANADIANS RIOT

Delay in Shipment Home Leads to Two Days of Disorder.

London, March 8.—The censorship lifted the veil late last night from one of the most serious military riots in Britain since the outbreak of the war. The following official statement was issued by the ministry of Canadian overseas forces:

"Tuesday and Wednesday, 15,000 Canadian soldiers rioted at the Kinemel Camp, Wales, because of the delay in their shipment to Canada due to shortage of ships.

"Three of the rioters and two pickets were killed and twenty-one wounded, including two officers."

The statement adds that "some" property was damaged. The riot leaders, including twelve civilians were arrested. The communique denies a report that a major decorated with the Victoria Cross was killed.

RICHMOND—WILLIAM FARNUM

William Farnum will be the big attraction at the Richmond Theatre tonight. He will appear in a new William Farnum de luxe production, entitled "For Freedom." The great popularity of this noted Wiliam Fox film star justifies the prediction that the new picture will be the leading feature of our season.

"For Freedom," of course, contains a charming love story. But the tremendously strong emotional scenes and heart-gripping situations which crowd this superb photoplay depend for success upon the virile acting, the extraordinary melodramatic power, of Mr. Farnum.

Mr. Farnum is an actor who never disappoints who always realizes the expectations of his admirers and delivers a joyous surprise to those unfamiliar with his work.

AN OLD LANDMARK

The announcement in yesterday's Gazette that the old building on the southeast corner of Prince and Fairfax streets, known in the olden times as "Green's Factory" had been sold to a prominent resident, who says the structure will be again used for business purposes, was received with satisfaction by the many Alexandrians who have been passing and repassing it during the past two-thirds of a century.

Occasionally rumors have been started to the effect that the building was to be metamorphosed into an apartment house. It is not stated what mercantile enterprise is to be located in the place.

Green's Factory" was an Alexandria institution nearly a century ago. As far back as the twenties James Green, an Englishman by birth, was conducting a factory for the manufacture of furniture in a building on the site of the present Fleischmann Hotel, on Royal street, near King. A fire in the latter part of the twenties of the last century destroyed the structure, and later Green removed to the building which has recently been sold.

Previous to the breaking out of the war between the states many men were employed at this factory. While the war was raging the federal authorities took possession of the building and it was used for some time as a military prison. Several bloody scenes were enacted at this place, soldiers sometimes having been shot while protruding their heads from windows.

At the close of the war Green reopened the factory, and for several years manufactured furniture. Later it was used in various enterprises. At one time the Potomac Shoe Factory was located in the building, following which the Kretol Manufactory had its headquarters there. About this time R. E. Lee Camp of Confederate Veterans met in the second story.

During late years it has been unoccupied and an eyesore, especially during the past year when business has given such an impetus. Hence the fact that the structure is again to be used will be learned with satisfaction.

ARMY OF OCCUPATION

Every letter that comes from soldiers of Alexandria and other American cities in Europe shows that there is an intense desire among the troops to come home. They were enthusiastic fighters and have done what they went over to do—they have whipped the Germans.

As a contemporary says, "an army of occupation in a foreign country should be a regular standing army, composed of men who had enlisted for the regular term and prepared to perform whatever duty that might be assigned to them. But for men who volunteered for the war, or who were drafted and taken away from their families and their vocations in life, to remain indefinitely away doing police duty in a foreign land, there is naturally discontent.

"The War Department understands this perfectly, and had a remedy prepared. The Army bill, which was defeated by certain Senators, contained a provision for a regular ramy of 500,000 men, made up by voluntary enlistment of men who were willing and expecting to do service in foreign lands. This army would have been sufficient to release all who desired to get home.

"To the enlisted man of the regular army, foreign serivce under such conditions as the Army of Occupation in Germany finds is no hardship. Those that enlist are generally young, unmarried men with no business engagements or regular occupations that they wish to continue. The spirit of adventure may make them enjoy the novelties of foreign service and seeing the world, and service in a military post in Germany is probably no more arduous or monotonous than service in a military post in the United States."

CARLIN'S RESIGNATION

Representative Carlin's resignation from the House is a distinct loss to the District, and will be regretted by the people of this city.. Mr. Carlin, representing the Eighth Virginia district, has during all of his six terms manifested the keenest and most practical and helpful interest in National Capital affairs. Though not a member of the District committee, he has been helpful in many ways in securing wise legislation for Washington, and is recognized as having faithfully fulfilled his legislative obligation under the Constitution to his Capital constituency as well as to his Virginia constituency. His retirement, following the re-election, is an unusual procedure, and the hope of his Washington friends is that he will find in it a distinct and deserved increase in prosperity There is also the hope that his successor in Congress will take as keen an interest in District affairs as he has throughout his twelve years of congressional service.—(Washington Star.

QUEER LEGISLATION.

Following predictions of well-informed persons that the successful application of prohibition by law—as seen by fanatical reformers, and outside of any question as to whether it would really stop drinking of hard liquors—was only the beginning of a move backed by hundreds of thousands of dollars reserve fund to stop tobacco use, to suppress many theaters and movie shows, and to put in force rigid Sunday blue laws all over the country, come steps to that end. In President Wilson's cabinet is a Virginian, Hon. Carter Glass, who has come out for search-and-seizure of liquor and the throwing aside of the idea that a man's home is his castle. In several parts of the country have cropped up the tobacco legislative moves. A senator in the Indiana legislature has introdued a measure providing that no man addicted to the use of tobacco in any form shall be permitted to hold public office. Two bills have been introduced in the legislature of Maine to prohibit the manufacture of, importation or handling of tobacco or cigarette paper. It is well to suggest here that a "middle course" might be pursued by putting in force an old blue law passed by the legislature of Connecticut in 1638, namely:

"For as much as it is observed that many abuses are crept in and committed by frequent taking tobako, it is ordered by the authorities of this court, that no person under the age of 21 years, nor any other, that hath not already accustomed himself to the use thereof, shall take any tobako, until he hath brought a certificate under the hands of some who are approved for knowledge and skill in phisick, that it is useful for him, and also, that he hath received a license from the court, for same and for the regulation of those who either by their former taking it, have to their own apprehensions, made it necessary to them, or upon due advice, are persuaded to the use thereof."

Maybe this no-tobacco propaganda, part of the general joy-killing movement of sanctimonious, well paid official joy-killers is a joke—then maybe it is not a joke. These bills are introduced not as jokes, but as serious measures by extreme moral regulators. The American public, in tremendous majority, watched as a joke the move which put through a prohibition amendment by means of votes of country legislators, who for the most part, were secretly wet, but who dared not face an organized minority at home, at the same time knowing that the majority, though for personal liberty, was unorganized and careless of its rights under the belief that the thing could never be. This is no time to go to sleep on further moves that make the American people look ridiculous, or the crack of the whip of the fanatical reformer will make legislators who smoke, those who enjoy the theatre and movies, those who approve of clean healthy sports on Sundays, and others who have no sympathy with well-greased reform agitators, vote away any more of your personal liberty. They even say a move by any state to place a common-sense interpretation on what content of alcohol beverages should have under the prohibition amendment, would be an act of secession. It is feared that the dry forces are now the real drunkards of the nation—drunk with their own success at throttling the will of the majority. A reformer in an adjoining state only the other day, in opposing Sunday amateur sports, said "he would not submit any moral question to the people for a vote; that the referendam was a bulwark behind which cowardly politicians hide." In other words, that the public could not be trusted to decide its own problems. He proposed no alternative, the organized joy-killers, whoever they may represent, apparently being considered the arbiters of public morals. To recite the rank injustice of the whole matter it is only necessary to mention that Alaska Utah, South Dakota, Oregon, North Dakota, New Mexico, Nevada, Montana, Idaho, Colorado, Arizona, Nebraska, Washington, Oklahoma, Texas, Hawaii, with approximately a population not exceeding 10,000,00 the states having about 28 senators, have voted Massachusetts, New York, Ohio and Pennsylvania, dry, with a population of over 23,000,000 and only 8 senators. Is this is a fair proposition? It looks as if the fight proposition? Indeed we could add a half dozen more states to this, which have 12 senators, making a total of 40, and yet the population of the lot would not equal that of the four States above menticned. Is this fair, or is it right by might? Wake up thinking people, before they put you to sleep "for keeps."

OFFER OF PEACE BY REDS

Scheme of President Larin Includes Payment of Debts to Allies.

London, March 8.—A new peace proposal, granting large concessions will soon be forthcoming from the Bolsheviki, a dispatch from Helsingfors, quoting Moscow advices, reported yesterday.

According to this dispatch, President Larin, of the Russian Economic Council, declared officially that the Soviet government would offer the allies a concession for construction of a canal connecting the River Amudaria with the Caspian Sea, also the right to exploit the great wealth of the cotton regions.

Under this scheme, Russian debts would be paid to the allies from export trade with the allies. The Soviet government would demand that the allies not interfere with Russian internal affairs.
